

Weight Management Fee Reimbursement Form

A qualified weight loss program includes single or multi-session weight loss programs that focus on changing eating and activity habits and is led by nutritionists, registered dietitians or other certified health care professionals. The program may be in person or virtual. The reimbursement does not cover costs of food or meals.

Be sure to consult your doctor before starting any exercise or weight loss program. After choosing a weight loss program that is right for you and paying the fees, you may submit a receipt to SCAN Health Plan for reimbursement.
